PSUOG INTERESTING CASE CONTEST

The Interesting Case Contest aims to promote interesting case paper writing and presentation in the application of ultrasound in the practice of Obstetrics and Gynecology.

This Interesting Case Contest is open to all fellows-in-training in ultrasound in obstetrics and gynecology from PSUOG-accredited training institutions.

Rules:

1. The subject matter should be relevant to the science and practice of ultrasound in obstetrics and gynecology
2. The interesting case should not have been published in full in any local or international publication
3. The principal author must be a fellow-in-training in ultrasound in obstetrics and gynecology from a PSUOG-accredited training institution. One of the co-authors must be a PSUOG Fellow/Consultant of the Section of Ultrasound of their respective training institutions.
4. Authorship credit should be based on significant and substantial contributions to the preparation and writing of the manuscript. All authors should agree with the contents of the manuscript
5. If the interesting case paper is selected for presentation, the principal author must be the one to present in the final Oral Presentation.
6. Each training institution is required to submit at least one (1) interesting case report for the contest.
7. The subcommittee on interesting case reports shall prescreen all case reports submitted based on the adherence to the requirements of the manuscript format. The papers that will pass the first screening will be submitted to the panel of judges for the second screening based on the technical criteria set forth by the committee.
8. Only the top five (5) finalists will be chosen for the oral presentation. The Pre-judging scores for technical criteria will be converted to seventy percent (70%) of the final score.
9. ORAL PRESENTATIONS score of thirty percent (30%) will be added to the WRITTEN REPORT scores of 70% to make it 100%.
